

TED 400 Early Field Observation/Participation
Letter of Introduction

Dear Principal:

The bearer of this letter is a credential candidate enrolled in the Preliminary Credential Program at California State University, Dominguez Hills. The course, entitled TED 400 Introduction to Education, requires the candidate to observe and participate in an urban, multicultural classroom environment. This experience is an extremely important part of our candidates' program of professional preparation.

If you are willing to have this candidate observe and participate in your school, we would greatly appreciate having the candidate assigned to a classroom(s) in which the teacher(s) will be supportive and will allow the candidate to observe, participate, and interact with students.

We are grateful for your help in the preparation of our future teachers and value our partnership with you in this endeavor.

If you have any questions, please send an e-mail message to the instructor of the TED 400 course at jsapp@csudh.edu.

Thank you,
